

Extracurricular Activities

As part of a healthy and efficient education, the SABIS® Educational System calls for a measured balance of homework, before- and after-school activities, work, and personal responsibilities. Thus, students enrolled in ISC-Amman are encouraged to join numerous after-school activities following the completion of the academic day.

At ISC-Amman, extracurricular activities complement and facilitate students' academic studies. While providing ways to socialize, relax, have fun, and become refreshed, extracurricular activities keep students physically fit, increase their energy and stamina, widen their interests, and promote mental agility. Students may participate in a wide range of activities including swimming, tennis, table-tennis, volleyball, football, painting, and music, among others. All extracurricular programs are organized and overseen by the student-run SABIS® Student Life Organization.

With a wide range of activity options catering to all tastes, students can develop their interests, refine their talents, and hone their social skills, while strengthening friendships.

It blends quality education with traditional values of hard work and responsibility for self and others.

The SABIS® Educational System consists of a demanding, international curriculum that is updated regularly so that it remains relevant to the age, the international community, and the global environment.

Philosophy and Goals

ISC-Amman believes that a university education is academically accessible to nearly all students. ISC-Amman also believes that the success of an educational institution should be measured by the value it adds to each individual.

ISC-Amman aims to achieve the following academic goals:

- Qualify every student for entrance into colleges/universities around the world
- Provide a well-rounded education based on a mastery of English, Arabic, and mathematics
- Enable students to benefit from a trilingual education system
- Train students in logical reasoning and critical thinking
- Prepare students to be able to sustain intellectual efforts for long periods
- Generate excitement for lifelong learning

Beyond academics, ISC-Amman aims to prepare graduates who:

- Uphold high standards of ethical, moral, and civic conduct
- Make informed decisions on social issues
- Defend convictions and reverse negative peer pressure
- Participate in extracurricular activities, school management, and community work
- Foster tolerance, cooperation, and teamwork
- Understand the people of the world through an appreciation of differences as well as similarities

In an increasingly competitive world, a university education is an essential component for future success. ISC-Amman has a strong track record of preparing students for acceptance to top universities in Jordan, the Middle East, the U.K., and the U.S. As a school that implements a non-selective admissions policy, ISC-Amman attributes its success, and that of its students, to the philosophy, goals, and high standards of efficiency and accountability that the SABIS® Educational System requires.

SABIS® Student Life Organization (SLO)

The SLO is the students' mini-society. Prefects are selected – not elected – to manage the SLO. All students are encouraged to join the SLO and play an active role in their education. By working in cooperation with, and complementing the efforts of, the administrative and academic staff, prefects add even more value to themselves. Prefects also help to raise the general standards. They promote high social and moral values and they encourage participation in a wide range of additional experiences. Student Life Coordinators allocate “real-life” tasks to students and advise and support them in all their efforts.

Involvement in SLO helps students develop essential life-skills through an experience of real-life work environments and responsibilities. Students become responsible, caring citizens who have learned to:

- Reverse negative attitudes
- Improve general standards
- Promote constructive thinking
- Improve their communication and social skills

While being involved in SLO and having a good time, ISC-Amman students acquire and refine the skills, attitudes, and attributes that give them an edge. Having demonstrated that they have a broad base of abilities and experiences and that they can be effective team players, top universities from around the world are eager to attract and accept them.

The SLO contributes to ensuring that ISC-Amman educates outstanding students who are academically strong, morally sound, mentally sharp, and socially aware.
